Last October, I went to Vietnam for the first time to visit my penfriend Mai and her family. Mai and I started emailing each other three years ago, thanks to my teacher, Mr. Brown. He set up a link with a Vietnamese school because we were learning about Vietnam in our classes that term. Mr. Brown felt that we would find out more about the country if we had contact with Vietnamese people and he was right.

In our first few weeks of exchanging emails, Mai told me lots of interesting things about Vietnam. Then, she described the city where she was living and what she did at school each week. We really enjoyed learning Vietnamese and when other students at our school heard how much fun we had, they asked to join the class.

When our headteacher, Mrs. Smith realized that Vietnamese became more and more popular in her school, she suggested developing a full exchanging program with the school in Vietnam. That's how I finally got the chance to go to Vietnam and meet Mai.

V. Read the passage and answer the following questions. (1.5pts)

Alexander Fleming was born in 1881 in Scotland. He went to a small school in a village, and when he left school he didn't go to university. He worked for five years in an office. But his brother, Tom, was a doctor and helped Fleming to go to university and study medicine. So he went to London University and in 1906 he became a doctor. In 1915, Fleming married Sarah McElroy, an Irish woman. They had one son.

During the First World War, many soldiers died in hospital because they didn't have the right medicines. So after the war, Fleming tried to find a drug that could help them. He worked for many years and in 1928 he discovered a new drug and he called it "penicillin". He later worked with an Australian and a German scientist to develop a drug that doctors could use. In 1945, they won the Nobel Prize in medicine for their work on penicillin.

Barbara Morgan's dream was to travel into space. One day, her wish came true. She was one of the seven astronauts on the Space Shuttle Endeavour, which took off into space from NASA's Kennedy Space Station in Florida.

Morgan taught at an elementary school in Boise from 1975-1998, with some time off for astronaut training. In 1985, she and Christa McAuliffe were chosen from 11,000 applicants to become part of the teacher-in-space program. They trained together for the mission. But then, tragedy happened. On January 28, 1986, the Space Shuttle Challenger exploded. After the Challenger accident, Morgan continued to teach. In 1998, she was asked again to become an astronaut. TEENSPOT !

The website for teens ...

THIS WEEK'S TOPIC:

Do you help out at home?
How do you feel about it?

Darren, 17, Lincoln

I help quite a lot actually, especially at weekends. I sometimes mow the lawn, for example, wash the car or dust the furniture. My mum and dad both work really hard all week, so I think they need a bit of help.

Stacey, 16, London

I sometimes help my mum after school. I often take out the rubbish or wash the dishes. It's not fair though! My brother never helps! He just disappears into his bedroom and lets me do all the work!

Greg, 18, Manchester

To be honest, I don't usually help much with the housework, I just clean my own bedroom once a week. At the moment I'm doing exams. It's not that I don't want to help, it's just that I never find the time!

Jenny, 18, Scarborough

My mum and dad run a hotel. They are really busy, so I often help to make the beds, cook the breakfast or dust the furniture. I don't mind at all. Sometimes my parents even pay me!

Put a tick (✓) in the appropriate box provided.

	TRUE	FALSE	DOESN'T SAY
1. Darren and Jenny both help their parents with the housework because they have a lot to do.

VI. Read the text below and decide whether the statements are TRUE or FALSE. (1.5 pts)

Sleep is very important - in fact, it's just as important for your body as eating and exercising. If you don't get enough sleep, then you won't be able to enjoy yourself. Playing with friends, going swimming or even watching videos will not be much fun if you're tired.

People of all ages need sleep, but different people need different amounts. Babies sleep about twice as long as they stay awake. Teenagers need about eight or ten hours a night and older people need less - six or seven hours. But one person may need more than another even if they are both the same age.

Six out of ten children say they are tired during the day, which means they are not getting enough sleep. So how can you get to sleep? A good idea is to write down what you are thinking about before you go to bed. Then, make sure your bedroom is as dark as possible and it isn't too hot or too cold. You can also try counting from 1 to 100 with your eyes closed. Don't drink cola before going to bed and don't do any sport in the evening. Reading an exciting book or watching an adventure film isn't a good idea either!

Put a tick (✓) in the appropriate box provided.

Winter Carnival

The Quebec Winter Carnival takes place in Canada every year during the months of January and February. This traditional celebration lasts for 17 days and attracts lots of locals and tourists.

Preparations for the festival begin when the people build an amazing Ice Palace for the festival's mascot, Bonhomme. He is a cheerful snowman with a red hat and a traditional belt. The opening and closing ceremonies of the festivities take place at the Ice Palace.

During the festival, there are exciting events and activities, which include snow sculpture making, canoe races along the St Lawrence River, dogsled races, fireworks and, of course, carnival parades with brightly decorated floats and night-time parties.

The Quebec Winter Carnival is the world's largest winter festival. Despite the sub-zero temperatures it promises everyone unforgettable moments.

Last summer, I was on holiday in Thailand during Songkran. It’s a festival that takes place over three days in April when Thai people celebrate their New Year. Many people call Songkran the Water Festival because the festival marks the end of the dry season. Everywhere I went, locals were having playful water fights – using bottles and buckets. They do this to wash away their bad luck so that they can welcome the new year with a fresh start. I got soaked too when an elephant splashed me with water! I’ve uploaded some videos I recorded onto my blog.
